INTRODUCTION

This policy is designed to align U3A-ACT Inc. (U3A) practices with the principles underpinning the Work Health and Safety Act 2011 and relevant obligations under the Discrimination Act 1991.

While the Work Health and Safety Act 2011 does not apply to U3A as a volunteer association, it is in the best interests of the physical and psychological health of its members and others engaged in U3A's activities to adopt a policy and practices consistent with the principles that underpin that Act.

The Discrimination Act provides protection against: discrimination (being treated unfavourably or placed at disadvantage) on the basis of attributes such as age, gender, race, religion, disability, sexual harassment, vilification or victimisation. While U3A as a voluntary body is not prohibited by the Act from discriminating in relation to membership or the provision of benefits, facilities or services, it is in the best interests of the wellbeing of its members, others engaged in U3A's activities and the broader community to comply fully with the Act wherever reasonably possible.

PURPOSE

This policy identifies U3A's commitment to the safety and wellbeing of its members and our collective and individual responsibility while carrying out the activities of the association to act safely, cause no harm and engage with activities that can help prevent injuries and illness. This policy is divided into two parts: matters relating to all U3A activities wherever they occur and matters relating to U3A premises.
